Sills, fire chief mum on extinguisher issue

By RICH ADAMS
North Bay Elementary Principal Billy Sills and Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Richard Fayard declined to comment Tuesday on reports that some 28 fire extinguishers in that school's classrooms are missing, leaving the school virtually without a first-line defense against fire.

The manager of the fire extinguisher outlet which rents the devices to the school said Tuesday North Bay has nine to ten more devices than are required by law, and added the extinguishers were at the school during a routine check in September.

Fire units reduced

Fire rate second highest in state

By WAYNE DUCOMB, JR.
Out of Mississippi's 82 counties Hancock County ranks second in the total number of forest fires from July 1, 1978 to June 30, 1979.
Hancock Area Forester Rand D. Riedrich said, "Hancock County has a traditional high fire rate with the highest fire area being in and around the Standard Community."
The latest Mississippi Forestry Commission report lists Hancock

Fayard said he did not want to comment or get involved in the controversy, and also said a copy of a recent inspection by Assistant Fire Chief Andrew Lizana would not be made public.
Fayard added, however, that fire extinguishers are in each of six trailers on the school campus which have been used as temporary classrooms for the past 16 years.
Sills said he did not wish to comment on the most recent controversy at the school, referring all questions to Fayard.

Jimmy Morgan, manager of Safety Systems Incorporated of Biloxi, the rental company which places extinguishers in the school, said he has received no word of missing fire extinguishers at the school.
"We placed 13 fire extinguishers at North Bay. There are three water devices, nine five-pound 'ABC' extinguishers, and one 10-pound extinguisher in the kitchen for grease fires," Morgan said Tuesday.

"The very minimum we issue is one extinguisher for every 50 feet. The school could have one every 100 feet and remain within the law," the manager continued.
"That would be three or four fire extinguishers in the entire school, but we are concerned about the safety of schools, and we put in more than called for by law," he added.

The issue arose at a Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board meeting Nov. 12, when Board Member Betty Diboll asked if fire extinguishers are in each classroom.

Superintendent J.D. McCulloch then asked Sills if fire extinguishers are in the rooms, to which the principal replied, "There is one in every other room."

Parents who toured the school last week during a National Education Week open house reported no fire prevention devices are in any of the rooms with the exception of the trailers, and parents say they fear a fire may result from faulty heater wiring, also reported at the last school board meeting.

Sills said at the meeting reports of two fires at North Bay are false, adding that the wires of one heater did begin to smoke, but never erupted into flames.
The building is fireproof, according to Fayard, constructed of "cement FIRE EXTINGUISHERS - Page 8A

A THANKSGIVING SONG-RSVP Gospel Choir Director and Driver Charles Johnston and Rev. Charles Clark, Assembly of God Church, Waveland lead a song during Thanksgiving services for senior citizens with the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program and the Hancock Senior Citizens Program. The Thanksgiving program began 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Valena C. Jones Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis. Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett was one of several speakers participating in the morning event.

Local police prepared to intervene

Protest here against Iranian takeover fizzles

By RICH ADAMS
Only a handful of Bay St. Louis and St. Stanislaus High School students assembled in front of the Star Theatre in Bay St. Louis late Wednesday afternoon for a slated protest burning of an Iranian flag, and the assembly dissolved after the student with the flag failed to arrive.

Hunting injury remains under investigation

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The shooting of Trey Calvert, 12, while on a deer stand accompanied by his step father Edward Ricks, Sunday is still under investigation, according to Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner.

The shooting occurred on the Goat Lee Road in the Flatop Community.
"The young resident of Carriere was in a pecan tree with his step father when a pickup truck drove up about daylight.
The hunters made a noise in the tree and the person getting out of the truck acknowledged seeing them," Sheriff Ladner said he was told.
"Ricks told me a little while later the HUNTING INJURY - Page 8A

Bay St. Louis Police units patrolled the area regularly before the group departed, and afterwards Police Chief Douglas Williams said he would have attempted to stop the protest.
The students were planning the demonstration to protest Iranian students who are holding some 49 Americans hostage in the American Embassy in Iran.

Iranian students stormed the embassy this month and took a number of hostages.
Monday and Tuesday 13 of the captives, all women and blacks, were released. The remaining Americans are reportedly to be tried by the Iranian government for espionage.

The Iranian students are demanding the return of the former Shah of Iran, who was overthrown earlier this year and is currently in a New York hospital reportedly receiving treatment for cancer.
Wednesday Chief Williams said he was planning to stop the demonstration planned here by local students because the flag burning may lead to other forms of protests by other groups.
"You may have a flag burning here today, and tomorrow somebody may say, 'The police didn't do anything,' and

State jobless rate unchanged

The October unemployment rate for the state was 5.3 percent, which reflected no change from the September jobless rate, according to the Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Edgar C. Lloyd Jr.

The 5.3 percent for the month of October was lower than last year's rate of 6.4 for October. MESC figures showed 53,100 employed and 53,100 unemployed out of a civilian labor force of 996,200.

The initial unemployment insurance claims totaled 11,486 for October.
The counties having the highest rate of unemployment were Jefferson with a rate of 12.0, Montgomery with a rate of 9.3 and Attala with a rate of 9.0.

Covington, Lafayette and Rankin had the lowest rate of unemployment. Covington had a rate of 3.3, Lafayette had a rate of 3.1 and Rankin had an unemployment rate of 2.3.

Forty-two counties showed an increase in the unemployment rate.

Port channel hearing slated

Navigational improvements from the Gulf Intercoastal Waterway to Hancock County's Port Bienville Industrial Park will be discussed during a public meeting slated Dec. 5 in Slidell by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The Slidell meeting is one of four such hearings, the other three slated in Jackson, Philadelphia, and Columbia on Dec. 3, 4, and 6, respectively.

The meeting in Slidell is the only one during which the Port Bienville study will be discussed, the Corps reports.

The meeting concerning Port Bienville will include statements on studies of the feasibility of deepening a channel through the industrial park in Hancock County to a depth of 12 feet.

A previous hearing was conducted Sept. 6 in Bay St. Louis to discuss the plan tentatively selected to provide the 12-foot navigation channel from the Intercoastal Waterway to Port Bienville.

According to the Corps, public interest has required an additional meeting to discuss the issue.

Diamondhead, Waveland, Slidell armed robberies may be linked

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Gulf Station at Diamondhead on I-10 was robbed at gunpoint late Tuesday night, according to Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner.

Mrs. Margaret Tullos, on duty at the time, said she was approached by a man about 5 foot-two inches tall wearing a monkey mask demanding the safe be opened, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Tullos was not harmed according to the sheriff, but approximately $250 was taken in coin and bills, also traveler checks and charge card bills.

The white male, about 135 pounds in weight may have been the same person to commit armed robbery of the Amoco Station in Our Shopping Center, Waveland, on the morning of Nov. 17 and also a Slidell service station an hour later the same morning, Ladner said.

The same descriptions were given by the victims, Ladner commented.
Deputies Willie Harrington and Glen

Strong answered the call at the Gulf Station and picked up several rolls of coins and some loose coins dropped by the robber, Ladner said.

Mrs. Tullos said the robber was apparently on foot as she did not hear any vehicle start or door slam as he fled into the darkness.

Sheriff Ladner, Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson and Deputy Delbert Seay are also involved in the investigation of the robberies.

Zoning violation? Restauranteur balks at cement dust hazard

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Bay St. Louis City Council President Pete Benvenuti received a letter from Gerald Scaffidi of Wheel Inn Restaurant on US-90 complaining of a severe hazard to his business being caused by a cement plant across the highway.

The plant located directly across the roadway from the Wheel Inn was recently involved in a petition before the City Planning and Zoning Commission for a change of zoning on some property further down the highway for possible construction of a new plant.
The zoning change request was turned down at a hearing attended by many of the area residents objecting to the change.

Highway area residents at that meeting complained cement dust caused by the plant is caustic and damaging to lungs, automobiles and structures.

Scaffidi's letter caused concern by the council members as to how an industrial plant was allowed in a commercially zoned area.

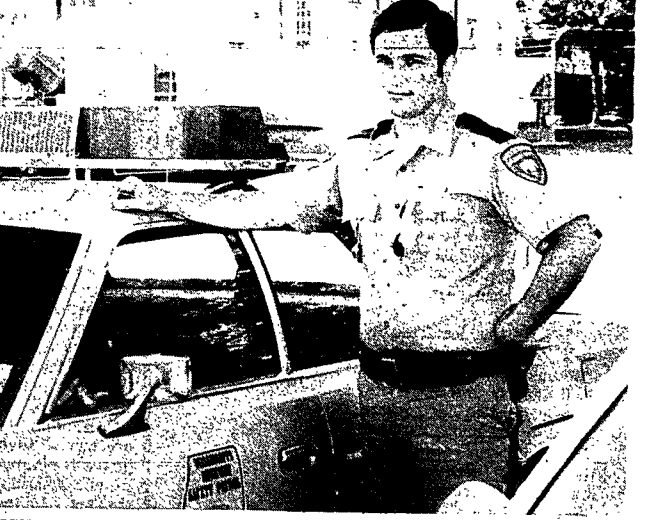

Mayor Larry Bennett stated that he had been contacted by Mrs. Scaffidi on the problem and had turned it over to Joseph Gex, city attorney, to check and see if any violations are involved.

Benvenuti said he had contacted Lloyd Sharp of the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control in Ocean Springs on the matter.

Scaffidi's letter said:
"Dear Mr. Benvenuti:
"I am writing to you concerning a problem that has developed on Highway 90.

"The problem has been created by several overflows which occur daily when cement is being placed in the mixer. The cement overflows and is

HIGHWAY PATROLMAN David J. Kenney of Bay St. Louis was recently assigned motor patrol duty in Hancock County by the State Highway Patrol Eighth District. Kenney is the son of Elsie Kenney and the late William P. Veterans asked for annual income review

The Veterans Administration reminds approximately 670,000 elderly veterans that it's time to recompute their income for this year to make certain it still meets VA pension requirements.

The agency said a formal reminder of its pension income standards will be enclosed with the December pension checks.

VA officials said they wanted to make sure, however, to bring the subject to the attention of veterans age 72 and older receiving pensions under laws that were in effect prior to December 31, 1978.

Last year, for the first time, this group received the annual income questionnaires that are sent to more than a million other pension recipients.

But these elderly veterans who have not elected under the improved pension program will not receive the questionnaire this year.

This doesn't mean, however, that they are exempt from the income limits set by the new law. They must still report any changes in the number or status of their dependents and any income increase which causes it to exceed the limit.

These pension recipients do not need to report general rate increases in social security benefits because VA automatically records them. Pensions are paid to wartime veterans with non-service connected disabilities who meet income limitations, and to their eligible widows and children.

VA News

Since the Revolutionary War, nearly 39 million men and women have served in the U. S. military during periods of armed hostilities.

Among the more than two million widows and children of ex-servicemen on Veterans Administration compensation and pension rolls are 90 widows and 134 helpless children of Civil War veterans.

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY

You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance—mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

We can still be Thankful!

Today, we as Americans have many things we can be thankful for on this Thanksgiving.

We realize the great concern of all Americans is for the hostages being held by Iran on this Thanksgiving. We can and should join their families in a prayer today that they will be returned to their homeland safely.

We should all be concerned over our fellow Americans being held in Iran and at the same time remain calm.

This nation has divisions between the leadership normally, but, we can all be thankful for the united effort of the United States when someone or nation tries to step on our toes, such as Iran.

The things we can be thankful for are so many today. Our country, state, community and even the weather.

We have so many freedoms in this country which we just take for granted. We can come and go as we please, associate with whom we please and do so many things people of other nations are not allowed to do.

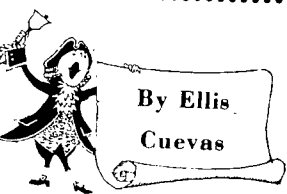

We should thank the Lord, not only on Thanksgiving, but every day of the year for our so many blessings.

In the 1600's when America got it's start, our forefathers saw the importance of being thankful, and they had very little in comparison with us today.

Be thankful for our many blessings and please say an extra prayer for our American citizens being held hostage.

Opinion

Bits 'n pieces

If we had to select a high school coach of the year in our area, our vote would have to go to Bay High Tiger mentor James (Snuffy) Smith, in his first season.

The Tigers won only four games this season, but it is their best record in years.

When we consider the number of players and their size on the Tiger squad in comparison to their opponents, Bay High came out a winner this season.

We have to commend Coach Smith, his staff and also the Bay High Tigers who gave their best.

We hope to see many more Tiger wins next season.

It was good to see our friend from Pearlington, Roy Baxter, receive an Outstanding Service to Hancock County award last week. Baxter was a charter member of the Hancock County Planning Commission and served 10 years on that important group.

He received the award from James Rester, president of the commission. Rester has always been a person interested in what is in the best interest of Hancock County.

Congratulations Roy, your dedication to Hancock County during the many years we have known you makes the award more important to you in our eyes.

The many sports fans in our area must now realize that basketball is replacing football at our local schools. We are very fortunate to have some very good talent in the sport and hope as many of you as possible will try and attend the many games on tap in the months to come.

We wish all our teams a very successful season.

Save The Children seeks Cambodian aid

November 13, 1979

Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

As we brace ourselves for our annual Thanksgiving feast, the faces of starving Cambodians stare vacantly at us from the pages of our daily newspapers, offering a painful contrast to our holiday preparations.

In what has been termed the Auschwitz of Asia, the condemned people of Cambodia march slowly but certainly down the path of extinction. More than a third of the population of this tranquil land has already perished from the effects of war, repression and disease.

As many as two million are on the verge of death by starvation. Two hundred and fifty thousand refugees are camped along the western provinces of the country, waiting for a chance to cross the border. Their numbers increase daily. We are witnessing genocide in our time.

As always, it is the children who suffer the most. Large numbers of the country's under-five population have already died. Many of those who survive do so with permanent brain damage and bone deformation due to malnutrition. Even those settled in refugee camps are easy prey to the effects of malaria, dysentery and pneumonia.

Through a joint effort of the international Save the Children Alliance, Save the Children (U.S.) can now provide these desperate refugees with food, medicine and health care. A pediatric medical team is battling to save children's lives in the Sa Kaew holding camp.

A hundred thousand refugees are being treated by other medical teams in border camps between Cambodia and Thailand. Rice, high-protein fish meal, milk and essential drugs are being flown into Phnom Penh or shipped to Kampong Som. Yet the need seems unending.

The year 1979 has seen a series of tragedies, beginning with the plight of the boat people, befall the peoples of Southeast Asia. Spiraling inflation or projected recession here in America sometimes blurs our view of how blessed we really are.

At this time for giving thanks, I ask you to consider extending a hand to those who, quite literally, have nothing. Any contribution, no matter how small, can help save the children of Cambodia. Please mail your check today to Save the Children, Cambodian Relief Fund, Dept. P., Westport, Connecticut 06880.

Sincerely,
Marjorie Benton

IRAN: A BLESSING IN DISGUISE?

The shocking events of the past few days have come at a dizzying pace as new tension in the world was created by the seizure of American citizens in Iran.

The sequence of events was astounding, beginning when Iranian students stormed the American embassy in Tehran. Americans and Iranians then clashed on their streets, and President Carter ordered the deportation of Iranian students in the U.S. found to be violating their visas.

The President placed a boycott on Iranian oil imports; Iran threatened to withdraw $6 billion (by U.S. estimates) from American banks; the President froze Iranian financial assets to keep that from happening.

Through it all, approximately 61 Americans remained hostage in Iran, with hands and feet tied and sometimes blindfolded and paraded in front of the television cameras. The Ayatollah Khomeini proved to be impossible to reach through normal diplomatic channels and, indeed, at times, seemed to have little control over those people occupying our embassy.

Knowing that the concluding chapter of this crisis has not been written as I prepare this column, I believe these events may prove to be a blessing in disguise. It's been a long time since the American people stood united, determined and steadfast, in their feelings on an issue.

Today, young and old alike stand as one. Every U.S. citizen was deeply offended by the embassy takeover, the taking of hostages, the burning of the American flag by Iranians in this country and other sordid events.

Our national pride was insulted by a group of Iranian revolutionaries, and the American resolve to set the situation right again was overwhelming.

In a sad way, these events dramatize how vulnerable our country is to radicals who have no respect for decency. While I believe the Carter administration is doing the best it can, the previous signs that such an incident could take place did not get the attention they deserved.

Our country made a mistake after mistake in Iran while the movement to depose the shah developed. Certainly human rights issues were involved, but our embassy in Tehran had been stormed before. The President should have had reason to believe it might happen again.

Finding ways to prevent other potential crises elsewhere in the world is still a crucial challenge for our country. The unity displayed in this Iranian situation is, I hope, an indication of a re-kindling of the American spirit.

Senator Thad Cochran

THE IRANIAN CRISIS SPECIAL REPORT:

I have been as upset and disturbed as many of you at the alarming situation involving the seizure of our American embassy in the capital of Iran and the holding as hostages more than 60 of our U.S. citizens there.

There is no question that such action, apparently encouraged and approved by the revolutionary rulers of Iran, is a serious diplomatic breach and an insult to the United States.

Most of us in the Congress have tried to exercise restraint in our own comments, to give the President figures, such as the Pope, support in their efforts to obtain the safe release of our citizens in Iran. In addition to those held hostage at the American embassy, there were several hundred other U.S. citizens in Iran when this situation developed.

I think everyone will agree that our nation's first priority was to try and gain the safe release of our fellow Americans from the danger in Iran.

Every effort must be made to accomplish this objective. We must also seriously consider and implement appropriate measures to lessen the risk of this type occurrence from taking place in the future. The President has already announced a cutoff of our purchase of Iranian oil, and we are refusing to deliver any equipment and spare parts for their armed forces, which are largely American-equipped and trained.

It is also appropriate to move quickly to deport those students or otherwise, who are violating their visa requirements or immigration laws. In fact, this should have been done by the administration much earlier, after a group of Iranians attempted to seize our embassy several months ago.

Further diplomatic, economic and other sanctions against the present Iranian regime must be given serious consideration by the United States.

The administration's action freezing about five billion dollars in official Iranian assets, including deposits held by American banks in the United States and abroad, certainly is a step in the right direction to give us more leverage in dealing with the revolutionary forces in control of Iran.

The arrogant provocation of seizing our embassy and American personnel in Iran ranks as one of the most intolerable violations of international law and the rules of diplomatic behavior in history. Even Germany and Japan did not treat our diplomats in this fashion when World War II broke out.

Apparently what has evolved the past several years is that some nations, particularly those in the so-called Third World, bloc, view the United States as a paper tiger, declining in power and lacking the will to firmly and forcefully protect our interests when challenged.

Much of this lack of respect for our country in some foreign capitals can be traced to the hesitant course in foreign policy that has developed in the past few years. This hesitation or uncertainty has been viewed by other countries as weakness and the loss of the will power necessary to maintain respect in international circles.

I can assure all Mississippians that as your United States Senator, one of my major objectives is to help steer our nation back on a path of strength and firmness of purpose at home and abroad.

Perhaps the ultimate result of the current Iranian crisis will be to unify our country, to bring our people together with a resolute determination to protect our national interests and in so doing to earn the respect of all nations around the world.

Neither our friends nor our potential enemies should have to guess about our nation's intentions to help promote peace and understanding throughout the world. But, at the same time, none should doubt our will to do what we must to safeguard our security and our economic interests anywhere in the world.

Happy. Thank and all! Do h spending the ones and reminiscing holidays.

SENIOR CITIZEN EVENTS

BY MS. PETE CARR

Happy Thanksgiving to one and all! Do hope that you are spending the day with loved ones and close friends reminiscing over past holidays.

Those of you who were alone because the children live out-of-town or travel was out of the question, we are thinking of you and hope that you spend the day filled with warm happy memories. The entire Senior Center staff joins me in this.

Can't help but feel how important a love and appreciation of music adds to one's enjoyment of life. Every time I hear a Strauss waltz my toes quiver with excitement as the strands of his music just seem to invite one to dance.

In this connection, we really enjoyed Ronnie Caire coming to the Center for lunch and playing his accordion for us.

Do come more often as we all enjoyed your playing. As you know, Mrs. Caire's recipes are published in the Echo and I understand she has completed her new cookbook.

Rev. Charles Clark presented us with Thanksgiving services and he brought with him Rev. Clyde Page and his wife, Sister Sylvia Clark.

Each in turn brought encouraging messages to the Senior Citizens.

With Rev. Clark the Free Spirit Gospel Group performed. This is a non-denominational group and they have performed throughout the country.

The guitar and solo singer was Laura Kirkwood of Bay St. Louis; the balance of the group were made up of the following: Dennis Lynch of Bay St. Louis, Joan Breland of New Orleans, Carl Green of Bay St. Louis, Donna Weidersteindt of Maurepas, La., and Yvonne Green also of Bay St. Louis.

Carl Green also accompanied the group on his clarinet and Sister Clark played the piano. All in all, their voices resounded in the dining room.

I could see from the rear of the room the backs of the Senior Citizens swaying in time to and fro with the music. Everyone enjoyed it.

Grace Palloede sang a solo number. She is a very active member of the Singing Seniors group.

Theresa James, Jim Hoda and Wayne Ducomb added their Thanksgiving greetings to all and Wayne who is with the Echo took pictures.

To each and everyone we wish to thank you for taking your time to make the day enjoyable and we in turn wish you a Happy Thanksgiving.

After lunch we gathered at the entrance of the Center and Mayor Larry Bennett presented us with two flags - the American Flag and the Miss. State Flag.

The mayor presented the flags as a gift from the city of Bay St. Louis and Sidney Gonzales accepted the flags on behalf of the Center.

Gonzales is a young 90 and is a veteran of World War I and recalls that he was paid $26 per month serving as a corporal.

The Pledge of Allegiance was said by all as the two flags fluttered on high. It was more meaningful to everyone as each of us recalled seeing on television the burning of our flag in Iran, and we all are happy having our flag wave greetings for all to see at our Center.

We then reassembled in the dining room and the preschool children in the Headstart program under the Mississippi Action for Progress entertained us with their Thanksgiving program.

They brought warm smiles from us all as faces of little ones always tug at the heartstrings.

Sullivan Bell, is director of the Headstart program and Darlene Lee, Judy Tate and others assisted. Thank you one and all and if I overlooked mentioning a name, it was because I had a deadline to meet and had to run home and type my column.

Theresa James asked me to remind you that there is a Dec. 7 deadline for gifts which RSVP is receiving on behalf of the Mississippi State Hospital in Whitfield.

All items have to be in on time. Do not wrap them as this will be done later. RSVP hopes the box will be overflowing.

Any personal item you can think of will be appreciated.

Here are some ideas: ties, toilet articles, for male or female, hair spray, puzzles, shaving cream, cigarettes.

If you read newspaper items regarding the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District, (SMPDD), please be reassured that all programs will continue as usual and projected changes will in no way affect our Center.

While the Mississippi Council on Aging will temporarily administer the program until such time as a new private, non-profit agency can be established all our programs at our Center will continue as usual.

As usual all kinds of rumors will fly which we would ask that you ignore, knowing everything will continue as usual.

The art classes are getting ready to exhibit their works at the Hancock County Library. There is an open invitation extended to everyone for Dec. 7 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at which time refreshments will be served.

Ms. Cherie Arceneaux, director of the cultural enrichment program for the Aging at SMPDD, will preside.

The exhibit will be on view for the month of December. I think you will find to your surprise the improvement in the works that are being presented.

Entry in the exhibit is open to anyone in Hancock County over 60 years of age even if not a member of the Center.

Carl Baldenhoffer's class will also be included. Come one, come all.

All paintings must be wired and ready for hanging. Should you have unframed paintings we have clips that we can use. Also please remember that paintings should be at the Center by Friday-morning, Nov. 30. If there are any questions, call the Center, 467-9292 for additional information.

Dates to Remember: Dec. 7 - 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Senior Citizens Art Exhibit at the Hancock County Library.

ATTENTION: The Center will be closed Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and Friday.

Senior Citizens wish the entire staff a happy holiday.

MANY THANKS

I wish to thank each of you for your vote and support in re-electing me as your Supervisor of District Four. To those of you who supported other candidates, I will work to serve everyone in District Three and all of Hancock County.

FATAL BEE STINGS

More Americans die from bee stings than from snake bites, according to the National Wildlife Federation.

Dinah Hickman is shown accepting delivery of her new Chevrolet Chevette from Turan-Lane Chevrolet Salesman Carlos Carter.

"My father bought a new truck from Turan-Lane Chevrolet about a month ago and said that he was real pleased with Carlos Carter and Turan-Lane Chevrolet. I went to see Carlos and my dad was right. Pension benefits aid Civil War descendants

Among the more than two million parents, widows and children of ex-servicemen on Veterans Administration compensation and pension rolls are 90 widows and 134 helpless children of Civil War veterans. These children receive benefits based on their being disabled before attaining age 18.

The last Civil War veteran died in 1959.

The most senior veterans on VA rolls are 209 Spanish American War veterans. This group that once numbered 392,000 during that war still has 14,013 widows and 1,116 children who are receiving VA payments.

Surviving spouses qualify for compensation or pension benefits as a result either of the veteran's service connected death or their own financial need. Children who qualify are eligible under the helpless child rule.

Though World War I veterans themselves average 84.5 years, 153 parents of World War I veterans are receiving VA death or dependents' indemnity compensation benefits.

Parents of veterans who died in service or from service connected causes are eligible if their income is insufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and for members of their families under legal age.

Powell joins Texas chiropractic program

Dr. William L. Powell of Bay St. Louis has recently become a member of the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation of Fort Worth, Texas.

The announcement was made this week at the organization's headquarters following Dr. Powell's completion of an educational seminar on advanced chiropractic technique, x-ray and health service administration.

As a member of this foundation, Dr. Powell joins fellow chiropractic doctors in a continuing program designed to provide information on the latest techniques and developments in the practice of chiropractic. The foundation emphasizes major programs of chiropractic education and research as well as provides materials for use in public education and practice management.

Dr. Powell is a graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic located in Davenport, Iowa. His offices are located in the Bay St. Louis Shopping Center, U.S. 90, Bay St. Louis.

Money Talk

By NORINE BARNES
Area Consumer Management Specialist, Cooperative Extension Service

Christmas, traditionally known as the season of love, can become a credit burden for 1980. Don't be tempted to charge or use extended credit when buying gifts.

Cut your purchasing list to the "bare bones" and avoid debt. Begin by making your shopping list and deciding how much money from the family budget can be allocated for gifts. Then, force yourself to keep purchases within the assigned amount. Don't be tempted by the elaborate displays in shops.

Express Christmas spirit with creative gifts of love rather than money. Give items made by family members or consider a beautiful card, picture, or letter expressing your love and appreciation.

I will be giving a program at the Hancock County Extension Auditorium at 1:30 p.m. November 27 on planned spending for Christmas and low cost gifts. Please come and share your ideas with us. Remember, don't enter the new year burdened with Christmas debt.

IN THE OFFSHORE GAS MARKETS WE'RE WORKING FOR YOU

Offshore in the Gulf of Mexico lie some of the nation's largest gas reserves. Only partially developed, they represent one of the nation's great hopes to increase domestic production.

And too, they represent a source of increased gas supplies for the homes, businesses and industries of the Gulf South, as United Gas continues its success in acquiring its fair share of new production.

More than a dozen major interstate gas pipelines are competing for these offshore reserves. Of these companies, only United Gas brings significant quantities of the gas production into ALL of the Gulf South states. To transport this much-needed natural gas ashore, United Gas has participated in the construction and expansion of multi-million dollar pipeline systems which extend far into the Gulf.

These long gas transmission lines, constructed in partnership with other major interstate pipeline companies, bring Gulf of Mexico gas to onshore markets in great volumes. But their significance is more than that: only because United Gas shares in this production does the five-state Gulf South get its fair share of the natural gas at its doorstep.

The more success United Gas has in acquiring offshore gas supplies, the more natural gas will be delivered to the Gulf South.

Council remains unsure of Main Street condition

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis City Council was split on whether to accept the 500 block of Main Street as recommended by the engineering firm of Burk and Associates.

Council voted 3-1 to put the bonding company on notice after a lengthy discussion.

Council member Fred Wagner said, "I believe if we do not accept that street (Main), Williams (the contractor) is going to sue us and run us into the ground."

Harry Farve, who voted against putting the bonding company on notice stated, "The City doesn't have a leg to stand on."

James Thrifflay made the motion to put the bonding company on notice because "the street is inferior."

President Pete Benvenuti commented, "All the engineers say the street is right, and if it is I am the Pope's nephew."

During the discussion it was mentioned that an independent laboratory had checked the street for the city and reported it to be specifications.

During an earlier on-site inspection by state and federal engineers, council members were told at that time if they would accept the job the engineers would accept it.

Council members all were in agreement that the job was not acceptable in their eyes.

In other business, City Clerk Kelly McQueen reported new construction on Beach Boulevard was a hotel.

The hotel is being constructed by Edwar Dear on a 40-foot wide lot. Dear had requested a permit to construct a ceramic's shop with an apartment attached but was turned down in violation of the City's building code at an earlier date.

McQueen said as far as he knew Dear was within the code in the construction of the hotel.

Dear, when contacted Wednesday morning, said, "I am going to have a room for rent, but I do not quite know when."

"When I first appeared before the Planning and Zoning people they told me I could build the Ceramic Shop and attached apartment. All I would have to do is get some variances and get an o.k. from property owners in the immediate area," Dear allowed.

Mention was made at the meeting that the pilings for the construction were not the correct distance between each other according to the code.

Mayor Bennett was to check with the building inspector to see if the construction meets requirements.

In other business, the Council held a hearing on four parcels of land and declared they should be cleaned up.

The Melvin Carver property in the 100 block of Felicite Street was reportedly cleaned, according to McQueen.

The Anthony Gilbert, Joseph M. Tate and Christiana Laneaux properties are to be advertised for cleanup and charged to the property taxes.

Hearing dates have been set on four other properties in the City for Dec. 18. They are: Cornelius Ladner, between Tiger Carver and Mrs. Mullins; Joseph Silva, North 2nd Street, between deMontluzin and Carroll; Raphael Padilla, 319 Ballentine; and Marvin J. Bell, St. Francis between Keller and Sycamore Streets.

The Council is to try and come up with an engineer to aid the city in repair of sewer breaks. Donn Murray, who usually does the checking for the city, is now tied down to several blacktopping of streets in the county, according to Mayor Bennett.

The Leonhard Street well work is complete, according to a report made to the Council by Dr. Michael Smith, president of Advanced Designs, Inc. (ADI).

Smith said he had requested the State Board of Health to check the well. Council members are concerned with the acceptance of the chlorination and activation of the Leonhard Street Well because there are several Bay St. Louis subdivisions waiting to tie into the system and the State refused until the well was brought up to par.

Dr. Smith said the water tower on Ballentine Street was now empty and wondered if the Council wanted to wait until it was painted and repaired before the contractor installed the control system.

Mayor Bennett was given approval to advertise for control systems to be replaced on the Bay Oaks pumping station which is faulty and also the one behind Hancock General Hospital.

The mayor said the one on Oak Street was the largest station and the one behind the hospital, second largest in the system.

DOWNTOWN SHOPPING- Attendance was brisk last weekend at a downtown antique and craft show and flea market at 'Shieldsborough Square' in the 100 block of North Second Street in Bay St. Louis sponsored by Mrs. Dorothy Brown. truck which carries a bulldozer with a fire lane plow.

"Hopefully, this move will reduce our budget 25 per cent, as required by the state, enabling us to hire six full time fire fighters instead of the present force of four full time personnel and two seasonal employees," Reiderich said.

"By having a larger full time force this may help us train personnel more efficiently to fight forest fires more effectively," Reiderich explained.

The Hancock Area Forester says most fires are due to arson for attracting game animals, to kill cattle ticks or is the work of a pyromaniac.

"But regardless of the reason individuals caught setting fires will be charged with a felony and put in jail for two years. In fact, this year Hancock County prosecuted two people for arson for the first time in 20-25 years," Reiderich said.

Reiderich credits arson prosecutions to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and says sheriff's office has been very cooperative arresting arsonists.

"The state forestry commission office can do very little about the county's high fire rate except put out

Smokey the Bear informational posters and "prosecute arsonists," Reiderich explains.

Holding files about two inches thick with 1979 fiscal year fire reports the Hancock Area Forester says, "With the price of lumber going up, fires are costing people a lot of money in this area."

"We have a large number of fires but thanks to the good work of our crews and the area's volunteer and paid firemen the number of acres destroyed has decreased over the last few years," Reiderich said.

"In a dry period, which is usually during March, our crews will fight 15-25 forest fires a day but so far since July 1 we've only had about 39 fires because it has been a pretty wet season.

Mississippi Code 1972 — 97-17-13 states:

If any person willfully, maliciously and feloniously sets on fire any woods, meadow, marsh, field or prairie, not his own, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to the state penitentiary for not more than two years nor less than one year, or fined not less than $200 nor more than $1,000, or both, in the discretion of the court.

project at the industrial park provides for a nine-by-200-foot channel, 1.3 miles long, through the mouth of the East Pearl River from a nine-foot contour in Lake Borgne to a nine-foot depth in the East Pearl, thus connecting Port Bienville with the ICWW.

The present plan under study which has tentatively been selected calls for dredging a 12-by-120-foot channel from the Waterway to the industrial park utilizing an old National Space and Aeronautic Administration channel from Lake Borgne through Little Lake up the East Pearl River to the Mulatto Bayou Cutoff and into Port Bienville.

The Corps said this plan is the "most economically efficient and environmentally acceptable plan to meet navigational needs on the waterway."

The plan would result in approximately 496,000 cubic yards of initial dredging and an equivalent annual dredging of approximately 30,500 cubic yards of maintenance material, the Corps reports.

"All material excavated from this channel would be contained in upland diked disposal areas," the Corp reports.

The Department of the Army will conduct an environmental monitoring program before, during, and after construction of the channel through Little Lake to establish baseline conditions and measure actual impacts of the work.

The public is urged to attend the meeting and state its views on the proposal.

Also to be discussed at the hearing is the possibility of providing navigation on the East Pearl River to Nicholson, near Picayune.

The known concerns in this area are bank erosion, flooding, the restoration of adequate river flows in the East Pearl, and the preservation of ecological systems in the lower Pearl River Basin, according to the Corps.

flooring, fireproof ceilings, and brick walls.

"Books, clothing and children all burn," one mother who asked to remain unidentified told the principal upon finding no fire extinguishers in the permanent classrooms.

Bay St. Louis Senior High School sustained heavy fire and smoke damage in February when a fire swept through the ceiling of an entire science wing before being controlled by local firefighters.

School Architect Fred Wagner said Wednesday the construction of the Senior High School wing which burned and North Bay Elementary's structure are "virtually the same."

"What happens is the buildings are called fire resistant because of the materials used to construct them, but the contents of the buildings, such as books and desks, are not fire resistant," Wagner said.

"If arson is involved, the heat in the fire is especially intense because the fuel, such as gasoline, makes the fire extremely hot," he continued.

"At the High School, the intense heat caused the steel supports for the roof to weaken, which intensified the fire," Wagner explained.

"The exact same thing could happen at North Bay if a fire began," he added.

hunter came back after going through the woods for sometime and fired into the tree about 30 feet away hitting his step child with over 30 pellets," Ladner said.

The reason Ricks wasn't hit was because he was on the other side of the tree, Ladner commented.

The lad was hit with No. 7 1/2 pellets from a 410 gauge shotgun, the sheriff reported.

"After the shooting, Mr. Hick's called out to the man that he had shot my son and he fled into the woods leaving his truck. The boy was rushed to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune where some of the shot was removed from his left arm, shoulder and hand. The lad was released and still has shot left in him," Sheriff Ladner allowed.

Game Warden C. J. Cameron and Deputy Nathan Hoda were summoned and they used loud speakers to try and call the man in from the woods, the sheriff said.

The man who did the shooting was identified by Sheriff Ladner as Horace Jarrell of Mitchler Trailer Park, Nicholson, according to the sheriff.

No charges have been filed yet, according to Sheriff Ladner, who added, "We are still investigating the case, along with Game Warden Cameron."

but we must control certain things here," he continued.

"The students did not have permission to burn the flag," he added. One of the students said the group had a burning permit, but Williams said that does not apply to flags.

Williams said he would have attempted to talk the youth into cancelling the flag burning, but added, he would not resort to physical action or arrests.

"We would not pull out the billy clubs and start hitting people and making arrests," the chief explained.

The students who did assemble, numbering about 10 youth, milled about the area until it was obvious the student with the flag was not going to arrive.

A number of parents also accompanied their children to the protest.

Hancock Library System offers 10 new holdings

Compiled by Sherry Schwabacher
Well, now that you're sitting there, the dishes are washed and all the leftovers are put away, what are you going to do while that turkey digests? How about reading one of the new books from the library. All of the following books are now available at any of the libraries of the

Hancock County Library System:
THE OCTOBER CABARET by Erica Quest. This is a Crime Club selection, but I think I will appeal more to our Gothic fans. This has all the classic ingredients a young woman, from far away, inherits her uncle's shop under mysterious circumstance, becomes involved with three men, but which one can she trust, etc., etc., etc. all in all, a typical Gothic mystery.

THE WAVE by Christopher Hyde. What happens if the Mica Dam, northernmost on the Columbia River, collapses, starting a surging wall of water 620 feet high, traveling at 96 miles per hour, and fueled by a lake 195 miles long, wiping out everything in its path and headed ultimately for the city of Portland, Oregon and the Pacific Ocean.

SHADOW OF THE MOON by M.M. Kaye (author of THE FAR PAVILLIONS). With the vividness and vitality that are so special to her, Mollie Kaye involves us in the lives, loves, and deaths of scores of characters—English, Indian, and some who are both—who are caught in the terrible flood of revolution during the great Indian Mutiny of 1857.

THE DEADLY FROST by Terrence Moan. What happens when the world's largest liquefied natural gas carrier ruptures in New York Harbor.
BUT NELLIE WAS SO NICE by Mary McMullen. A Crime Club selection, unusual in the fact that the murder doesn't take place until half-way through the book. The QUESTION—who could have wanted to kill Nellie Hand, everybody's friend? The ANSWER almost everybody!

DATELINE AMERICA by Charles Kuralt. A fresh and heartwarming celebration of America by the CBS News correspondent who writes about small towns and ordinary people in a way that makes us see our country through news eyes. Here are stories, tall, lyrical, funny, historical, sentimental, revealing the wonderful variety of life Charles Kuralt has found "on the road" in America.

PETER'S PEOPLE by Dr. Laurence J. Peter. Dr. Peter writes with wit and admiration about people from the past and present whose lives and accomplishments are of particular interest.

MUMMIES: DEATH AND LIFE IN ANCIENT EGYPT by James Hamilton-Paterson and Carol Andrews. More for all those who are so fascinated with King Tut and his relatives, this eminently readable volume debunks Egyptology as not mysterious, apart from the mysteriousness inherent in all matters of mortality and the passage of time.

ALONE AROUND THE WORLD by Naomi James. Naomi James is the first woman to sail single-handedly around the world and at the same time break Sir Francis Chichester's record for speed. Here is the first-hand narrative of her epic sea voyage—the thrilling story of how one woman challenged the elements, conquered fear and triumphed alone on the sea.

QUEST FOR THE BEST by Stanley Marcus. In this lively account of a lifelong search for "the best" throughout the world, Stanley Marcus' (of Neiman-Marcus) focus is sharp, gossipy, and unabashedly subjective about the greats (and not so greats) of retailing. Here is an insider's view of everything from Gucci, Pucci, and Adam Gimbel to Saks, Tiffany's, Lord & Taylor, and more.

BOOK REVIEW

FREE TO BE MUHAMMAD ALI by Robert Lipsyte

A specially updated edition of sports writer Robert Lipsyte's "forthright, fair-minded biography" (Kirkus) chronicling Ali's life and boxing career. Lipsyte presents a warm and personal look at the Champ. Facing head-on the controversies that have attended Ali's tumultuous career, the author offers insightful background material on the climate of boxing in the 1960's. (ALA Booklist - Published by Bantam)

QUEEN OF HEARTS by Vera and Bill Cleaver

THE MORTAL INSTRUMENTS by T. Ernesto Bethancourt

"A rich combination of detective thriller and supernatural tale." (Children's Book Review Service) Eddie Rodriguez is an ordinary inner-city teenager until a mysterious illness leaves him with ESP and the ability to control both objects and people—leading to terrifying consequences. (Published by Bantam)

BIG BACK YARD

The National Wildlife Federation has announced the launching of a new publication for preschoolers ages three to five. "Your Big Backyard" is a 12-issue full-color series of readers filled with photographs, puzzles, games, and nature stories.

"We wanted to provide parents with a program that will help their pre-school aged children learn to read, and more important, to enjoy reading," explained James D. Davis, NWF's vice president for membership and promotion.

"We know from our experience with Ranger Rick's Nature Magazine, designed for children five to twelve, that youngsters respond enthusiastically to pictures and stories about animals, natural history, and our environment."

The premier 20-page issue of "Your Big Backyard," to be mailed in January, 1980, features picture stories about the cottontail rabbit, the caterpillar, and three common backyard birds—the warbler, the chickadee, and the cardinal.

There are animals to count and color, and other projects designed to be fun as well as educational.

A guide for parents and teachers suggests related activities and questions to ask a child as he looks through "Your Big Backyard."

To enroll a child for this 12-part series of magazine-sized publications send $7.50, name and address, and the name, age, and address of the child to receive "Your Big Backyard" to: National Wildlife Federation, 1412 18th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

The Muppet Show Book By The Muppet Show People
What is small, green, gallant but slightly harassed and is applauded by 235 million people each week?

Answer: Kermit the Frog, the producer, director and master of ceremonies of the extraordinary popular Muppet Show, which Time Magazine called "the only adult show on TV."

Now many of the best episodes from the first two years of "The Muppet Show" can be seen again in The Muppet Show Book, published as a Peacock Press-Bantam Booms paperback.

This book is illustrated with color drawings by Tudor Banus and shows all the Muppet characters from Kermit the Frog, the sexy Miss Piggy, comedian Fozzie Bear to Scooter, Dr. Teeth and J.P. Grose.

It also includes such adventures as "Pigs in Space," "Veterinarian's Hospital" and the story of how Scooter was first hired by Kermit.

Faeries, the bestseller that enchanted the nation is now Peacock Press-Bantam Books trade paperback with the same bewitching illustrations as the hardcover.

When published last year, Faeries quickly appeared on the national bestseller lists and was named by Publishers Weekly as one of the top ten nonfiction bestsellers of 1978. Articles on the book and its creators, British fantasy artists Brian Froud and Alan Lee, filled such national media as Time Magazine and the "Today Show."

A guidebook to a fantastic if elusive world, Faeries is filled with the habits, history and haunts of brownies, boggarts, bogies, and other faerie-folk.

Illustrated in color are such creatures as the spriggan, who specializes in kidnapping infants and blighting crops, the horse-stealing pixie, the shape-changing pooka, and the glamorous Leanan Sidhe who lures men to their doom.

Artists and authors Brian Froud and Alan Lee live near another in the countryside of Devon, England, long reputed to be a Faerie stronghold.

David Larkin has edited over a dozen books for Peacock Press, including a collection of the work of Brian Froud.

He was one of us: The life of Jesus of Nazareth by Rien Poortvliet Rien Poortvliet shares his intimate perspective on the life of Christ in He Was One Of Us, a Bantam trade paperback published Nov. 1.

This unique work brings visual life to the often-told New Testament scriptures on Jesus' Ascension, the expectations of the Disciples, the crowds who sought miracles, Mary's jubilant flight from the Tomb and much more.

A hand-lettered text by Poortvliet accompanies the 128 pages of color illustrations.

WATCH THE BIRDIE—Sesame Street's Big Bird is official photographer when residents of San German, Puerto Rico join Maria (Sonia Manzano) for a photo session during location filming in their town. The villagers joined the cast of Sesame Street for shows which will be broadcast during the first week of the show's eleventh season, beginning Monday, Nov. 26 on the more than 282 stations of the Public Broadcasting Service.

Doll exhibit featured at DAR meeting

Mrs. Eugene Parks of Hattiesburg displayed her First Ladies Doll exhibit for the Gulf Coast Chapter DAR meeting Wed., Nov. 14. "Giving thanks for the blessings of Liberty" was the theme of the president general's message read by Mrs. Dale Billman.

National Defense Chairman Mrs. James Coker discussed "The Cost Arguments for SALTI" and urged members to write to Washington D.C.

Mrs. Darryl Wheat presented a moving eulogy for sadly missed Mrs. John Heiss. Mrs. Roy Jones reported that her Dancing Troup entertained at the Biloxi Veterans Hospital in October. Refreshments were served and prizes awarded by Mrs. Dalton Shourds, Mrs.

Raymond McFarland, Mrs. Nolan Barrios, and Mrs. James Coker from Gulf Coast Chapter DAR.

Elected to the Nominating Committee to select new officers were, Mrs. George Brann, Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, and Mrs. James Young.

Guests welcomed were Mrs. Janie Wheat, daughter of the regent, Mrs. Fred Sinquefeld, Mrs. Alice Snell and Mrs. Parks.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Roy Jones and Mrs. Dalton King.

French students sample heritage

The sixth grade French class at Christ Episcopal Day School recently spent a day in New Orleans sampling the French culture offered by the city.

They first visited the French Cultural Society where they saw films on soccer and skateboarding in France. They also watched a French TV program similar to our "Candid Camera."

Next the students enjoyed French cuisine at Arnaud's Restaurant followed by a walking tour through the French Quarter. After visiting St. Louis Cathedral, Jackson Square, and sampling beignets from Cafe du Monde, the students returned home, assured that the language they are learning is indeed alive in their own environs.

Students making the trip were Ned Benvenuti, Hunt Caraway, Burt Gilbert, Ashley Houston, Rusty Ladner, Connie Lambert, Jennifer Lamb, Amy Mecon, Mark Puckett, and Mark Truett.

ROTARY JUNK SALE—The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's junk sale lasted only two hours when the final sale was made to Nickie Kingston. Randal Hatton, left, James Ginn, junk chairman; Kingston on tail gate, Mac Haas and Bill Watts helped load the final odds and ends in Kingston's station wagon, some even on top. Ginn appreciated the fast results at the junk sale, saying the only problem was a lack of junk. Ginn's assistant chairman Randall Hatton, a junk sale chairman himself a few years ago, expressed the Rotary's thanks to the many folks who visited the sale at Hancock Bank's parking lot on U.S.-90. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

AARP schedules tax-aid program

Paul Loup, American Association of Retired Persons assistant state director for South Mississippi, has been named coordinator for the association's tax-aid program on the Gulf Coast.

Loup told the Hancock County Chapter No. 114 the association will conduct a tax-aid workshop at Gulfport Holiday Inn Jan. 31 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Loup said at the local chapter meeting Monday at Waveland Civic Center he will be replaced as assistant state director by Stewart Bauer of Picayune.

Mr. Loup also introduced newly appointed State Director Fay Lassing of Jackson.

Mrs. Paul Loup reported 65 members present of some 185 paid members.

Genevieve Daniels community service chairman, reported visiting shut-ins at the old folks home.

Jos. Servat reported 35 members took a defensive driving course and received a certificate.

Mrs. Esther Oschmann was re-elected president. Other officers are Mrs. Theresa Hubert, first vice-president; Mrs. Lucille Reese, second vice-president; Dudley McCall, treasurer; Reggie Ross, asst. treasurer; and Mrs. Mitzi Pepperman, secretary.

Board members are Mr. and Mrs. George Surgi, Jimmy Hubert, Frank Geraci, Mrs. Ada Pollard, Shorty Reese, Mrs. Gladys Nonan and Mrs. Georgie Ciobold.

The Nominating Committee includes Charles Mammis, Mrs. Nona Zimmerman, Mrs. Julia Loup, Mrs. Josi Seavo, John Leslie Galavan, Mrs. Mary Geraci and Mrs. Dottie Mendow, Mrs. Geraldine Lang and Mrs. Cora Coe.

The following chairmen were appointed: Entertainment, Mrs. Cecile Galavan; insurance, Paul Loup; membership, Mrs. Julia Loup; legislative and defensive driving, Jos. Servat; program, Mrs. Lucille Reese; Tax-aid, Gordon Stone; Publicity, Lucille Whittier; travel, Mrs. Mildred Raymond; sunshine, Mrs. Eunice Arnold, and telephone, Mrs. Marie Longo.

Installation will be at the December meeting which will be a Christmas party, Tuesday, Dec. 18 at 11 a.m. Each member should bring an exchange gift, Mrs. Oschmann said.

Those who had a birthday in November and received a gift were Cora Coe, Esther Bussey and Eunice Raynaud. Mrs. Oschmann baked the birthday cake. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Happy Thanksgiving to all!

'W' Day activities host senior girls

High school senior girls from throughout the South and several outlying states are invited to the fall "W" Day, Dec. 1 at Mississippi University for Women.

A variety of activities, including academic department open houses, a luncheon and a talent show, have been scheduled for the annual fall event.

Registration for "W" Day guests will begin at 8 a.m. in the "W" room of the Hogarth Student Center, Sat., Dec. 1.

A multi-media presentation and welcoming remarks by MUW President James Strobel at 9:15 a.m. in the auditorium of the Student Center will kick off Saturday's activities.

A question-and-answer session for parents and a brief "get acquainted" assembly for "W" Day guests, faculty and administrative leaders are other events planned. Activities will conclude at 4 p.m. Saturday.

The W will provide chartered buses at a minimal charge from Memphis, Tenn., and vicinity from the Jackson area; from Mobile, Ala., and north Alabama; from the Mississippi Gulf Coast area and from New Orleans, La. Visiting "W" guests will be provided with free meals and dormitory rooms. In addition, "W" Day visitors will be admitted free to the Nov. 30 basketball game between The W and Valdosta State University Friday morning. Students wishing more information about "W" Day should contact the Office of Admissions, Mississippi University for Women, Columbus, Miss. 39701 or call 328-5891.

New cub pack's first official meeting Nov. 29

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The first official meeting of Boy Scouts of America Pack 207, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3253, will be 7 p.m., Thurs., Nov. 29, at North Bay Elementary School, Bay St. Louis.

According to Chairwoman Doris Monda, "The new cub scout pack has been formed because the present Bay St. Louis pack has capacity membership."

"The new pack presently has eight children and we're looking for more kids to participate in this cub organization," Monda added. Monda also commended Bobby Carver, commander of VFW Post 3253, for his hard work and dedication to the newly formed cub organization.

For more information about Pack 207 contact Cub Master Andrea Ring, Chairwoman Doris Monda or Den Mother's Helen Mallini or Betty Smith.

North Bay PTO holiday sale

The regular meeting of the North Bay PTO was Nov. 15 at the school cafeteria.

Discussion of an upcoming Christmas bake sale highlighted a regular meeting of the North Bay PTO Nov. 15, at the school cafeteria.

A proposal to have three members at large on the executive committee to involve more members in planning programs was taken under advisement and will be voted on at a future meeting.

Sue Sonier, new reading coordinator, explained the school's new reading program.

After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served.

One of the class rooms was opened to allow parents to view new reading program materials. (Submitted by Gloria Holland, North Bay PTO reporter.)

Tree supply dwindling fast

With tree planting season just several weeks away, The Mississippi Forestry Commission reports that its supply of pine and hardwood seedlings is dwindling fast.

The Commission's October inventory shows the following species and amounts still available: 15 million Loblolly Pine, 3 million Slash Pine; 242,000 Sycamore and 400,000 Cottonwood.

Heater safety essential as cold weather moves in

The coming of cold weather heralds the advent of another holiday season; but those who hastily rush to light furnaces, space heaters, fireplaces and such may soon find themselves without a home in which to celebrate.

The Insurance Information Institute advises Hancock County residents that heating devices need to be inspected before being used for the first time to prevent unsafe conditions from possibly causing the fire.

For furnaces and space heaters, it is especially important to clean the unit of trash and dust before lighting. If lit while dirty, the materials could ignite and send a ball of flame shooting out of the device.

Residents should also check for leaking gas by smelling the air around the unit. If gas is detected, have a repairman check the furnace.

The instructions for lighting the unit should be followed carefully, and the pilot light should be burning correctly before the main part of the heater is fired.

Once the heater is lit, residents should be careful to keep flammable materials, such as clothing and doors, away from the unit.

Those home owners who installed a wood-burning stove or a fireplace this past year may have altered the fire insurance coverage on their home. They should check with their insurance agent about their new unit.

The institute also offers the following tips for the safe use of fireplaces and wood-burning stoves:

Check the chimney to make sure that it is in good condition and that it has a flue lining. Also check that it is free of bird nests and other obstructions that could ignite cause smoke to fill the house.

Do not use a fireplace chimney for venting a wood stove unless the fireplace opening is sealed off to prevent toxic gases from backing up into the room.

Avoid connecting more than one heating device to a single chimney flue because flue gases and sparks may pass from one flue opening to another, causing unsatisfactory operation.

Use wood that has been seasoned at least six months, and preferably a year, to help prevent creosote from forming on the lining of the flue. A spark can ignite creosote, causing what can be an extremely hot and dangerous fire.

Before starting the fire, make sure the flue is open so that the house won't fill with smoke.

Burn wax firelogs one at a time. Using more than one can cause a fire so hot that soot accumulation will catch fire, sending sparks out the chimney and onto the roof and trees.

Wood-burning stoves should always sit on a fireproof pad and have at least 36 inches of clearance on each side. Protect surfaces that may be too close with a panel of fireproof material.

Crack a window for ventilation if a house is tightly insulated. Never leave a wood fire burning unattended or overnight, and dispose of ashes in a closed metal container outside the house.

The Institute also suggests that residents buy a fire extinguisher for the home and keep it readily available in case a fire does break out.

Happy Thanksgiving to all; may your day be a most enjoyable one!

And, if you're cooking or have already cooked a turkey for that festive dinner, you're probably already wondering how to make the fullest use of the leftovers without getting tired of looking at the holiday bird.

There are so many appetizing ways to use leftover turkey, down to the very frame or carcass, that this shouldn't be a problem...and that's a boon to the housewife in these inflationary times.

First, slice all the meat off the carcass, dividing the nicest slices, then the chunks, then the "shreddy" bits into separate containers, for immediate use or for freezing for later use.

Next, simmer the bones and the meat clinging to them to make a good broth strengthening it with celery, carrot, onion, bay leaf, etc., etc., as you go - or making a full-fledged soup by adding various vegetables as you would for beef soup.

You'll be amazed at how much good turkey is clinging to those bones. You can drop some noodles in, for turkey noodle soup or thicken the broth. Add a cream sauce or canned cream soup to make Turkey Tetrazzini or other casserole.

One of the most delightful and easiest dishes is sliced white meat of turkey, gently warmed in the gravy, with seedless green grapes or mandarin oranges and pecans, served over rice.

One of my favorites is Old South Turkey Hash, creamy style, served with hot buttered grits and hot biscuits for a Sunday breakfast or late post-party supper, an old family recipe.

Fuel costs too much to waste. Leaking storage tanks can cost farmers hundreds of dollars each year in wasted fuel. One leaking gasoline tank can waste $75 a year. To stop these losses, check for fuel leaks and tighten loose connections. Use a pressure-vacuum filler cap to cut evaporation losses. Using white or aluminum tanks rather than dark one will also save on evaporation losses.

Ford to address State Republicans

Former President Gerald Ford will be the guest speaker at the annual United Republican Fund Dinner scheduled for February 12, in Jackson.

Mike Retzer, Mississippi Republican Party chairman, is announcing the event, said, "As a respected statesman and leader of our country President Ford's acceptance of our invitation is an honor for the Mississippi Republican Party."

The dinner, Retzer said, is held in honor of those Mississippians who contribute between $5 and $25 monthly to the Mississippi Republican Party.

"These Mississippians show continually their concern for a two-party system in our state," Retzer said.

He added, "We should all take advantage of this opportunity to hear President Ford."

A crowd of over 600 is expected for the dinner, Retzer said. A straw poll will be taken to indicate the preference of those attending for the 1980 Republican Presidential nomination, he noted.

Tickets for the February 12 fundraising event will be available through county GOP organizations as well as the State Party Headquarters, Retzer added.

He said details of the dinner including the naming of a dinner chairman, will be announced at a later date.

December will mark the first anniversary of the Loiacano Health Club which occupies the structure at Main and St. Francis Streets in Bay St. Louis.

A sign over the door of the smartly appointed facility reads "A & J Food Store," a memento of the days until recently when the building housed the Loiacano family grocery store, an enterprise which had been ruled over by the late Joe Loiacano for some 30 years.

the opposite corner, and with advice from brother J.E. Loiacano, football strength coach at Mississippi State University, conversion of the business was completed in less than six months.

"Anthony, my mother (Mrs. Doris 'Jim' Loiacano) and I did most of the work," Jimmy Loiacano recalls of those days when passersby often asked, "Will they ever get it finished?"

Community response during the club's first year has been encouraging, Loiacano and white collar workers, news media representatives, teachers, artists, salesmen and women, accountants, paramedical professionals, high school and college athletes make up the membership of Loiacano's Health Club.

"People are always talking about going on a diet, but you must exercise along with a diet if you want to see results," Loiacano pointed out.

And exercise they do at the club on some $35,000 to $40,000

Also included at the facility is a health bar, smartly decorated in wicker and rattan by Mrs. Doris Loiacano and featuring high protein fruit juice smoothies, orange and grapefruit juices, diet drinks, dried fruit and nut assortments.

Loiacano noted the whirlpool bath is kept at 110 degrees and the sauna at 170.

"Those facilities help the body flush out impurities, and both burn up calories," he added.

"Salesmen call here thinking we are still a grocery," said the late Mr. Loiacano's son Jimmy, manager of the unique business now occupying the site.

"My mother and I kept the grocery open for two years after my father died in the summer of 1976," Loiacano continued, "but we closed it in June, 1978 when we decided to convert to the health club."

With the health club designed by brother Anthony Loiacano, proprietor of Anthony's Men Store located on Federal interest in health clubs has been prompted by unscrupulous tactics of a few fly-by-night operators, a sharp contrast to the well-established family operated nature of the Loiacano health club here.

Lawyers, doctors, politicians, businessmen and women, students, bankers, real estate executives, blue

The club is open to the public with alternate scheduling for men and women.

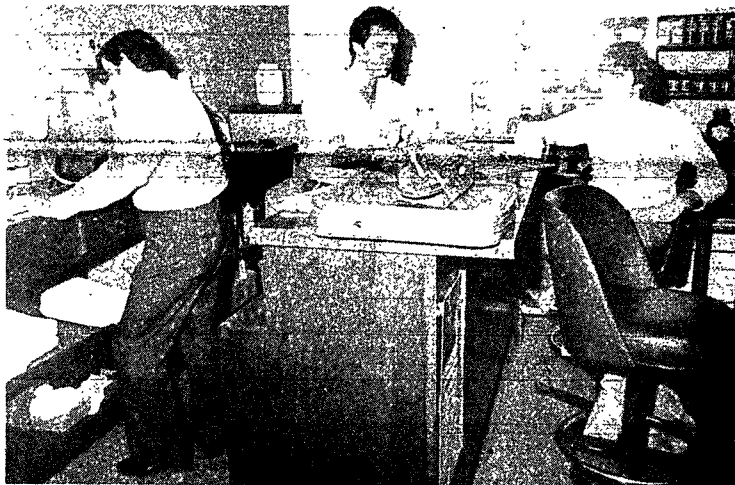

Exercise classes for women are conducted daily except Saturday. The club is closed on Sundays.

Fitness and health are more and more on the minds of Americans as the country moves into the 1980's, with as many as 10,000 people participating in big-city running marathons.

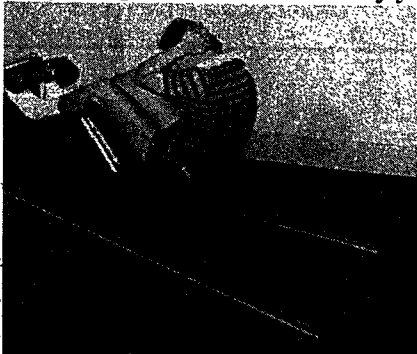

Faced with the crunching competition of the shopping center supermarkets, the Loiacano's have tuned into the times in converting the family's business from sale of beefsteak to development of beefcake.

Local pugilist undefeated

Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club pugilist Jerry Carson continued his undefeated streak last weekend as he stopped Fredrich Rogers of the Marrero Biloxi Club in the after nearly two minutes in the first round of a scheduled three-rounder.

Rogers was warned twice for slapping, and then received a standing eight-count before the referee stopped the fight," Head Coach John Whisenhunt said.

"Jerry got right on Rogers as soon as the first bell rang and stayed on him until the referee retired Rogers," he continued.

"Jerry was using left jabs and step-in rights which caused his opponent's knees to buckle when the referee intervened," Whisenhunt added.

The fifth win for Carson occurred Saturday during a match sponsored by the Delta Boxing Club in Metairie, Louisiana.

Carson is now 5-0-0 for the young season and will fight in a featured bout during a scheduled 25-card meet in the Valena C. Jones Gymnasium in Bay St. Louis Dec. 1.

Two referees and four judges, all from South Mississippi, have agreed to officiate at the first local meet in December.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett will award the Sportsman trophy for the most outstanding boxer of the event, Whisenhunt reported.

Dr. John Levens of the Bay-Waveland Clinic in Bay St. Louis will oversee the fight, the head coach added.

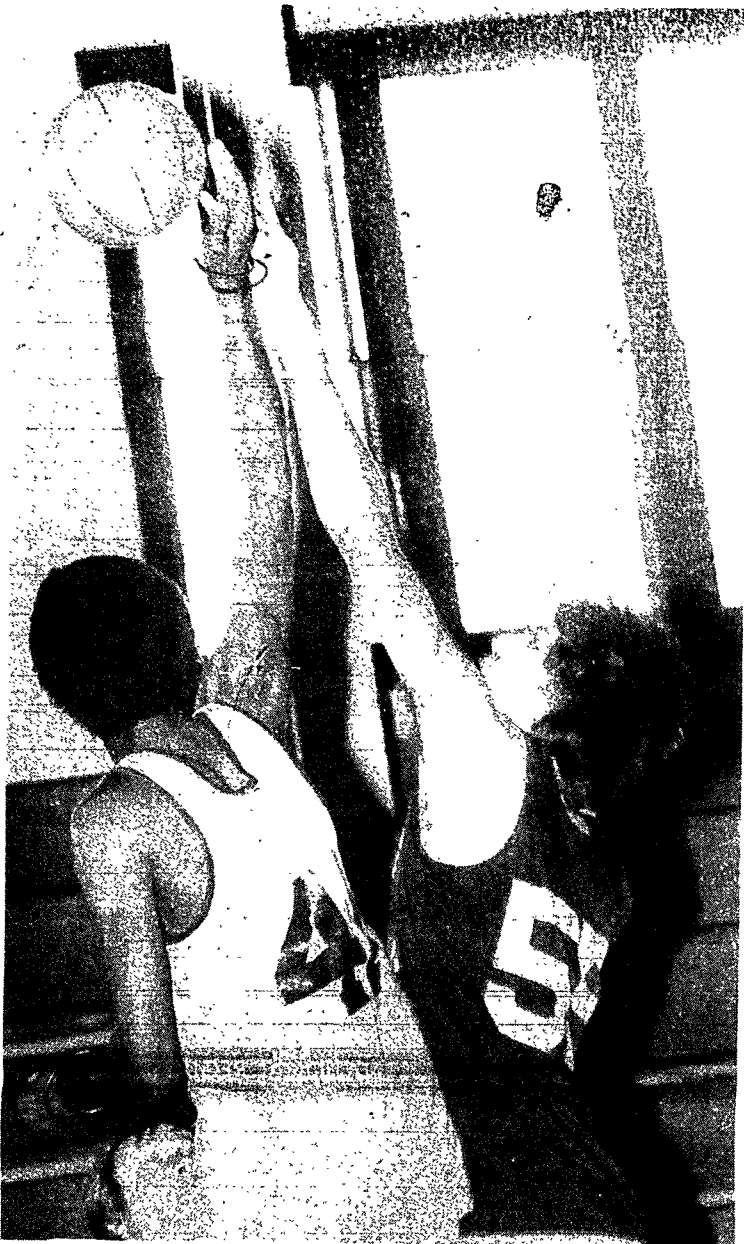

Going all the way in Metairie but losing decisions in Saturday's meet were Nicky Slade and Nolan (Spider Man) Vince from the local boxing club.

Attending the meet but unable to find an opponent was Burt Juneau, a 16-year-old 122-pounder.

Recovering from the flu and coaching from the corner was Joe Louis Goodman.

A scheduled trip to Saucier for a meet has been cancelled, according to Whisenhunt.

The club will travel to Harihara, Louisiana Saturday for a meet there.

Hawks, Hawkettes beat Jackets

The Hancock North Central basketball squads devastated St. Martin's hardboarders Tuesday night as Joy Nell Lee scored 22 points for the girls squad and Byron Ladner and Steve Nunn racked up 13 apiece for the boys five.

The girls dominated the court, allowing only five points in the first three periods, as they routed the Yellow Jacketettes 61-17.

The Hawkettes were led in scoring by Lee, followed by eight points from Shelly Dedaux and seven from Sheila Ladner.

Janice Hall was top netter for St. Martin with seven points.

In the boys game, Ladner and Nunn led the pack to a resounding 75-48 win over the Yellow Jackets.

The Hawks led 36-16 at the half way point, and opened up in the final half, scoring 39 points for the win.

Zachary Ladner and Rodney Ladner added 10 points apiece to score in double figures for the Hawks. High scorer for the Jackets was Greg Williams with 21 points.

FISHIN' TIPS

from...Tom Mann

BRER TOM: "How many years have you been catching bass on a plastic worm?" WANTSTA KNOW?

HELLO WANTSTA: Well, I've been fishing jolly worms about 20 years, waited about four of these years for them to reach bottom, spent nearly 16 years retrieving them, and maybe I've been catching bass on them three or four days.

DEAR TOM: "Does freezing fish without cleaning them detract from the flavor?" PRO-CRUSTINATOR

HELLO PRO: Not if the flavor was okay when you froze them. But, I like to clean them, freeze them in water, then when thawed they're skillet ready. HEY MISTER MANN "I heard Homer Circle, angling editor of Sports Afield magazine, say you were the first pro to use a big spinning reel in tournaments and now most of the pros use one. True?" DUKE OF DE-CATER

HELLO DUKE: Uncle Homer talk it like it is. I needed a faster retrieve to rip a little gear-spinner and a big spinning reel is the answer. Most pros carry one today.

OH TOM: "How do catfish sting you?" LITTLE ONEY

HELLO ONEY: Catfish can't sting, like a bee or hornet. Their pectoral and dorsal fins are sharp and can wound you if you handle them improperly. Poison on these fins can make the wound very painful, so be careful, hear?

REBOUND ACTION—Don Diboll (55) bats the ball away from the outstretched hands of Scott Anderson (50) as Bay High Tigers Keith Johnson (35), Isaac Darenbourg (41), Darrel Robinson (40), and Paul Garrett, right, await the rebound. The action took place when the team conducted an intrasquad scrimmage at the Junior High School Gymnasium. Bay High lost a comeback attempt against Ocean Springs Tuesday, 76-82. (Staff photo—Rich Adams)

IT'S A GUSHER—At Vancleave's halftime homecoming activities, during their football game with St. Stanislaus at Bulldog Stadium, a mysterious geyser of water momentarily shot some six feet into the air spraying SSC cheerleaders and fans. Rock-A-Chew cheerleaders watch as a Vancleave homecoming maid is chauffeured past the fountain to be escorted to the center of the field. The apparent cause for the half-time fountain was due to one of the homecoming floats rupturing a water line in front of the visitor's bleachers. The three foot high water leak was stopped shortly after the beginning of the second half. St. Stanislaus lost the contest 13-0. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

The fifth slate of local pre-season soccer produced a host of shut-out victories and defeats for Bay-Waveland teams as the pre-season activities drew to a close.

In the opening game of the triple-header played at the St. Augustine field Saturday, the Cobras stung the Eagles with a 2-0 loss.

Scott Demboski and Jay Artigues scored the goals for the Cobras as Josh Bowles and new team member Roy Goldman established control of mid-field.

Billy Kimbrell and Mike Neely provided good fullback support for Travis Foreman in goal.

"We played well, passed well, and maintained a good position on the field," Head Coach Tom Demboski said. "It was definitely a good team effort."

Steve Davis at an inside position and Randy Carver, a new team member at fullback, provided bright spots for the Eagles with fine play.

The Cobras finished pre-season play with three wins and two losses, and the Eagles recorded one win, two losses, and two ties.

The second game of Saturday's triple-bill promised one thing from the very beginning—a Raider victory.

In a match up of the Bay area under 10 teams, the Bay Raiders turned in a 2-0 win over the Christ Episcopal Raiders.

Burt Dean opened the scoring by netting a direct kick in the opening period, and in the third stanza David Suzeneau capitalized on a penalty kick opportunity to complete the Bay Raider scoring.

The Bay squad was provided fine offensive assistance by Shannon Maggio and Allen Schott at the wing positions, and Mike Vegas and Micah Necaise at the halfback spots.

For the Christ Episcopal Raiders, Paul Montjoy in goal recorded a good game as he limited the Bay Raiders to only two goals.

"It was a particularly good game for us," remarked Bay Raider Coach Brian Cronyn, "because we finally began to play good position offense and defense. Our athletes tire too fast when they just run all over the field."

It was a disappointing loss for the Christ Episcopal team as they failed to record a goal in their five pre-season outings.

A number of scoring opportunities were presented to them during Saturday's contest, but they could not get the ball into the net.

The final game of the triple-header matched the Bay Red Devils against the Long Beach Sea Hawks in the under 14 division competition.

The Red Devils demonstrated to home town fans that they are setting sights on the division crown as they geared up for the regular season with a 9-0 shutout in the pre-season contest.

Shane Foreman led a balanced attack with three goals and Tom Walton, Chris Kolodziej, and Kenny Sharp recorded two goals apiece.

Excellent support was provided by Burt Gilbert, Ronnie Artigues, and Don Pitolo at halfback positions and List Standiford at fullback.

At other games played at Gulfport's Milner Stadium and at Orange Grove, area teams posted one win and two defeats with shut-outs occurring in each game.

The Bay under 16 team came through with a victory as they worked together as a team for the first time in pre-season competition, posting a 4-0 win.

Frank Gibson and Ha Nguyen each recorded two goals and received excellent defensive cover from Min Tham, Scott Stewart, and Scotty Adams.

The Bay under 16 squad finished pre-season play with a winning note, but a 2-3 record.

The Mulletts experienced an "off" day, according to Head Coach Ted Holmes, as they went down in a 5-0 shut-out.

David LeGros again turned in a fine performance as the goal keeper for the Mulletts but received very limited defensive support.

Tom O'Brien at halfback and Heidi Hitt and Matt Richmond at wings provided the Mulletts with what little offense they could muster.

The Mulletts produced a 1-3-1 pre-season tally.

The Christ Episcopal entry in the under eight division was also handed a shut-out loss by a 1-0 score as they were unable to capitalize on offensive opportunities to net the tying goal.

With the pre-season play ended, the Bay teams will now get a well deserved rest until after the Christmas holiday. In January, practice begins in preparation for the regular season, which begins in early February.

"I think the soccer teams from Bay St. Louis and Waveland have overall played very well," commented area Soccer Program Director Tom Demboski.

"The Red Devils look like a keg of dynamite waiting for an excuse to explode. They will definitely be a contender for the division championship in the Spring season. They are going to be tough no matter who they play," he continued.

Tigerettes come from behind to win; Tigers fail

The Bay High Tigerettes came from behind in overtime to outscore the Ocean Springs five 55-45 in basketball action Tuesday night.

The Bay High Tigers did not, however, fare so well in their season opener as they dropped a 76-62 loss to the Bulldogs.

The Tigerettes came back from a 27-13 halftime deficit to net a 45-45 stalemate at the end of regulation play.

They then outscored the Lady Bulldogs 10-0 in the overtime play to take a season opening win, 55-45.

High scorer for the Tigerettes was Karen Tillman with 19 points.

The Tigers outscored the Bulldogs 27-10 in the final quarter of their loss in a comeback attempt, but missed the mark in a 76-62 loss.

The Tigers trailed at the mid-way point in the match 32-18.

Head Coach Jerry Spell said

Wednesday he expected the loss against the more experienced Bulldogs, adding his squad is comprised mainly of sophomores and have not much experience.

"We got down, but we came back in the final half. We shot a low percentage," Spell said.

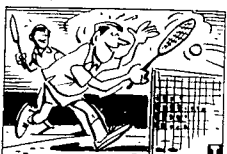

"We had 58 turnovers in the game, which is very high. I expected some, but not that many. I guess we lost because we have so many young people and because we have not played on our gym yet," he added, referring to the recently recoated gym floor at Bay High.

The Tigers and Tigerettes meet d'Iberville next Tuesday.

SPORTS SHORTS

The Physics Of Tennis

Cutting out a lot of the doubletalk about what makes a better tennis racket is what Dr. Howard Brody has been doing during the past year at the University of Pennsylvania, which has one of the strongest college Physics Departments in the world.

The physics professor patiently dropped hundreds of tennis balls on carefully monitored tennis rackets. Using a laser and an oscilloscope, Brody found that the flexing of the racket handle is too slow to give the ball much power. The ball is long gone before the handle snaps back.

Looser strings give the player more control because they allow the ball to stay in contact with them longer. Also, looser strings make each shot more powerful, because the strings turn the energy of the ball around more efficiently than the ball itself does when it flattens.

Another advantage of looser strings — less likelihood of "tennis elbow." This is because less of the impact of the ball hitting the racket is transmitted down the handle to the player's wrist and elbow.

Computer Age Has Major Impact on Tenpin Game

A young man timidly approaches the control counter of the bowling center, pencil and score-sheet in hand. "This may sound like a dumb question," he says while receiving how-to-score instructions, "but wouldn't it be easier to score bowling by just adding up the pins you knock down without worrying about extra points for getting spares and strikes?"

The answer, of course, is yes. It would be easier but don't expect bowling to change its scoring system. It is designed to reward a player for getting all the pins down in the allowable two shots. There is a bigger reward for clearing the pins in just one toss. For those reasons scoring is a little tricky until you get the hang of it.

Fortunately, however, the typical scene of the befuddled novice wrestling over the score-sheet is happening less frequently nowadays. Although bowling's scoring system hasn't changed — times do. The computer age has hit the sport, and a person doesn't necessarily have to know the details of scoring to bowl anymore. Computers have made scoring as easy as pushing a button. The frame-by-frame totals then appear on the special viewing monitors overhead.

No more assigning the resident "math wiz" to do battle with the numbers. No distractions to keep players from concentrating on their game or just enjoying a relaxing, friendly, sociable outing. Bowling, with the aid of automatic scoring, is now possible at many bowling centers. Practically any medium size city in the country will have a bowling center nearby that is equipped with automatic scoring machines.

The computer age will be in further evidence for the 30,000 or so avid bowlers who attend the biggest tournament in America, hosted by the American Bowling Congress. The American Bowling Congress, or ABC as it is called, has jurisdiction over the male league bowlers of America. One of this large association's functions is its annual tournament. Beginning in 1979, all scores will be projected by computer. Gone will be the men who posted scores by hand. A special computer has been devised which will automatically record scores.

"Each team just turns in their respective line-ups and bowls the tournament," explains Jerry Jurkowski, manager of ABC tournament entries. "The pin sensors record what pins are left standing and send the information to the computer which transfers it into bowling terms."

The electronic display board for each pair of lanes measures 4 feet by 10 feet and weighs 300 lbs. It uses flopping discs with fluorescent images to create the symbols, letters, and numbers.

Brown & Root Deborah Elkins is working for you in Mississippi

Deborah Elkins, from Luce, is a Mississippi Brownbuilder — one of the men and women of Brown & Root — working for you in Mississippi.

Deborah joined Brown & Root in 1976 as a receptionist. Later she served as a scheduler, and is now an electrical equipment clerk. Deborah and her husband, Larry, live with their daughter in Lumberton where they attend the First Baptist Church. Deborah enjoys playing softball with the women's church league.

Mississippi Brownbuilders like Deborah are working for you and thousands of your neighbors, helping to build the hardware such as oilfields and power plants, which will help insure Mississippi's future growth and prosperity.

Because of Brown & Root's policy of hiring locally first, most of our Brownbuilders here are Mississippi natives or longtime residents. Many of them first joined Brown & Root at project personnel offices near their homes. And, Brown & Root hires and promotes solely on the basis of individual ability and merit. Anyone willing and qualified eligible to work. That way, local communities, counties and the state get maximum benefit from projects on which we work — hundreds of thousands of dollars in purchases, payrolls, savings and taxes.

Mississippi Brownbuilders and Brown & Root — working for you in Mississippi.

NEW LISTING - Launch your boat within walking distance of home. This extra neat, two story home has 5 bedrooms and a large back yard. Perfect for a large family. $55,900.

IN THE HEART OF TOWN - is where you'll find this neat little cottage. Close to schools, shopping and the beach this would be a good starter home or investment for rental. 2 bedrooms, 1 bath and freshly painted inside and out. $16,500.

NOT FANCY; JUST HOMEY - describes this nice older cottage. Lovely idea for a beginning couple, it has 2 bedrooms and 1 bath. $26,900.

I AM A FRIENDLY LITTLE HOUSE - made of brick and frame. My living-dining combo and my kitchen have vaulted ceilings. I also have 3 bedrooms, 1 bath and a small yard for easy up-keep. $32,500.

A BACKGROUND FOR LIVING - is this lovely brick home close to the beach. Family room with fireplace opens into glass enclosed patio with a built-in bar-b-que grill. Separate living and dining, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and central heat and air. $62,500.

BE AN INVESTIGATOR - and investigate this home. Livingroom with pine wood walls, diningroom, kitchen with dishwasher, familyroom, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths and tremendous storage space. Also has utility room and a 3 car carport. The conclusion to the investigation is... This is your next home!!! $68,000.

ACCENT ON DETAILS - seems to be the prevailing theme of this home. Greatroom has beamed vaulted ceiling, kitchen includes a disposal, dishwasher and built-in range and there are 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. Other details include plenty of wallpaper and carpet, 2 car garage, central heat and air, solid oak floors and much more. Must see!!! $79,000.
